QuickBooks training for businesses offered

Are you looking for ways to increase the efficiency of financial record keeping in your business? QuickBooks for Windows is a popular program for small businesses and there is one more opportunity for QuickBooks training at the computer center in Pine River. Jay Bock will teach a one night class on July 10 from 5- 8 p.m.

This is a basic skills class will teach system setup, setting up files, preferences and a customized chart of accounts. Transactions detailed include invoicing, deposits, accounts receivable, accounts payable and cash disbursements. There is a $70 charge to attend this special workshop. Students are encouraged to bring in their own laptops with Quickbooks installed, if possible.

Pre-registration is required. Call 218-947-7523 or email us at cass.edc@co.cass.mn.us to reserve your spot. Space is limited. The Computer Lab is located at 980 First Street North in Pine River - just north of the high school.

Computer training is a short-term project sponsored by TDF Foundation through the Cass County EDC that will conclude on Aug. 16. The Cass County Economic Development Corporation is a local non-profit corporation for economic development activities in Cass County.
